Quanta Cloud Service Level Agreement

Version 5.0, effective 1 February 2026. This SLA forms part of the Quanta Cloud Terms of Service for paid plans.

1. Uptime commitment

Plan	Monthly uptime commitment
Starter	no commitment (no SLA)
Team	99.5%
Business	99.9%
Enterprise	99.95%

Uptime is measured every minute from three monitoring locations. A minute counts as down when the workspace cannot be reached from at least two of them.

2. Service credits

If the uptime in a calendar month falls below the commitment for your plan, you receive a credit on your next invoice:

Monthly uptime	Credit (share of the month's fee for the affected service)
below the commitment but at least 99.0%	10%
at least 95.0% but below 99.0%	25%
below 95.0%	50%

Credits are capped at 50% of the monthly fee. They are not paid out in cash and lapse if the contract ends.

3. How to claim

Open a support ticket with the subject "SLA claim" within 30 days after the end of the month in which the downtime happened, with the dates and times and your workspace name. We confirm the credit within 10 business days.

4. Exclusions

Downtime does not count when it is caused by:

- scheduled maintenance announced at least 72 hours in advance, up to 4 hours per month, usually on Sunday between 02:00 and 06:00 Verdania time;
- emergency security patches, up to 1 hour per month;
- your own systems, your internet connection or your misuse of the service;
- beta features or features marked preview;
- force majeure.

5. Data durability

Data is stored in three copies in at least two data centres. Backups are taken every 6 hours and kept for 35 days. Recovery point objective: 6 hours; recovery time objective: 4 hours.

6. Changes

We may change this SLA by giving 30 days' notice; a change never reduces the commitment during a paid annual term.

7. Definitions and interpretation

Clause 1. Staff are trained to explain these terms in plain language. If anything is unclear, ask for an explanation before you rely on your understanding of it.

Clause 2. References to a law include that law as amended or re-enacted from time to time and any regulation made under it.

Clause 3. Customers with accessibility needs can ask for this document in large print, audio or another format at no extra cost.

Clause 4. Where an amount is stated including tax, the tax rate in force on the date of the invoice applies, and a change in the rate changes the amount accordingly.

Clause 5. A failure or delay in exercising a right is not a waiver of that right, and a single or partial exercise does not prevent any further exercise of it.

Clause 6. This document and the documents it refers to are the whole agreement between the parties on its subject and replace any earlier understanding.

Clause 7. We may rely on information you give us. You must tell us promptly when that information changes, because a change may affect the service or the price.

Clause 8. A failure or delay in exercising a right is not a waiver of that right, and a single or partial exercise does not prevent any further exercise of it.

Clause 9. The parties will try to resolve any dispute by discussion between senior representatives before starting formal proceedings.

Clause 10. Notices must be given in writing. A notice sent through the customer portal counts as written notice from the moment it is shown as delivered.

Clause 11. We may rely on information you give us. You must tell us promptly when that information changes, because a change may affect the service or the price.

Clause 12. Where an amount is stated including tax, the tax rate in force on the date of the invoice applies, and a change in the rate changes the amount accordingly.

Clause 13. Customers with accessibility needs can ask for this document in large print, audio or another format at no extra cost.

Clause 14. Any change to this document must be agreed in writing, except where it says that we may change a part of it by publishing a new version.

Clause 15. Where this document refers to a person, that includes a company, a partnership and any other body with legal personality, and their lawful successors.

Clause 16. We process personal data as described in our privacy notice. We keep records only for as long as we need them for the purposes stated there.

Clause 17. Any change to this document must be agreed in writing, except where it says that we may change a part of it by publishing a new version.

Clause 18. Customers with accessibility needs can ask for this document in large print, audio or another format at no extra cost.

Clause 19. If there is a conflict between a schedule and the main text, the schedule applies for the matter it covers and the main text applies for everything else.

Clause 20. References to a law include that law as amended or re-enacted from time to time and any regulation made under it.

Clause 21. A failure or delay in exercising a right is not a waiver of that right, and a single or partial exercise does not prevent any further exercise of it.
